IINH is the only college to offer a professional BTEC qualification in Health Coaching from a globally respected accrediting body - Pearson is the world's largest awarding organisation for education.

Our courses have been rigorously inspected, audited and/or approved by reputable bodies. Our Diploma in Professional Nutrition & Health Coaching provides a BTEC qualification which is a vocational award.

This means you are ready to begin coaching as soon as you graduate. Our BTEC qualification is an internationally recognised health coaching accreditation.

This course is delivered fully online, with live learning sessions, weekly support sessions, 1-1 mentorship and case studies with 'real' clients.

After over 20 years IINH is still led by its founding mission: 'Teach passionate individuals how best to nurture their health, then train them to pass this on to others'.
